1 Specify model and analysis choices
Account for features, noise, tuning, and pair selection.
2 Run selection and define the target
Record the selected groups and the mean contrast to be tested.
Hierarchical clustering
Preserve the selected groups under the specified linkage.
Path-conditioned k-means
Preserve the intermediate assignment history.
3 Build the reference distribution
Fix nuisance information, find admissible radii, and integrate the truncated null tail.